

WILDCARE: FRIENDS OF LUMEAH POINT

Feral Oyster Removal 15 February 2015

Following the abandonment of the previous fortnight's session due to inclement weather it was pleasing to see eleven volunteers turn out on a windy, overcast but otherwise fine day. After two and one half hours the team had used all fifty-six bags provided by Mike Webb of Pipeclay Lagoon Oyster Growers (PLOGA). This count was a new onshore record and despite having half an hour of our scheduled time remaining there was a signal lack of enthusiasm for Aidan Webb's suggestion to get more bags. Could it be that forty to fifty years in age makes that much difference?

The work begins

Aidan keeping count

Group back exercises

Lifting technique demo?

Robbie and Aidan refining their pile & bag process

A good haul for pick up by PLOGA

A long way to go.

But a good distance covered.
